Two commercial TV networks will broadcast programs involving CMA members this Christmas Day.

In addition to CMA/SPARC's Channel 7 Christmas special 'A Hillsong Christmas', a 30-minute program by Pineapple Media will be broadcast on Channel Ten at 11am on Dec 25.

'My Christmas' is hosted by singer Darren Percival (The Voice 2012) and features the work of various Christian organisations and passionate Australians going out of their way to help others.

"Following the work of everyday good Samaritans, My Christmas captures the fun, compassion, generosity and community spirit of the Christmas season through a number of stories." Said Executive Producer Richard Attieh.

One of the ministries featured is the Kings Table Soup Kitchen for the homeless run by New Hope Brisbane Church, whose Pastor Matt Prater is also a Vision Radio Network presenter and host of HistoryMakers TV and radio show.

"It's a great opportunity to shine a light on those who are doing it tough at Christmas." said Matt. He added that they hope to work with Pineapple Media with more TV projects on commercial TV in the future.

Other stories in the TV special include Sydney's Paddy's Markets donating more than $1000 in fresh food and toys to a local charity to help make Christmas possible for families doing it tough. In turn, Christ Mission Possible give away $10million worth of food each year through their Free Food Shop, which is also highlighted in the program. The Salvation Army is also shown collecting toys for children, giving away Christmas hampers and throwing a party that provides a platform for Darren Percival to wish all of Australia a Merry Christmas.
